

Welcome

Dear people,

As events flow like torrents in this service, several challenges arise and demand us to elaborate and maturing.

We have Master Animals in hospitals, others being treated at the Sanctuary, an operation in Cunha for 6 months with over 300 Master Animals! Initiatives such as Ashram, The Hospital - which opened an internship program exactly in the deadline that the first vision determined! A new book coming that for the first time does not speak of the Master Animal, but of the human from the Master Animals' perspective!... The abillion, the Yoga - more recently the New Land Educational Center (Centro Educacional Nova Terra, CENT). The Store, partners approaching with charity events.

A monthly bill of 32 thousand dollars (150 thousand Brazilian Reais), 12 employees and service providers! A team of dozens of people daily donating in deep SEVA (*) for this purpose on these fronts and others that translate to something greater than the Sanctuary - a cause, a mission and purpose. 500 Master Animals rescued, mostly large. It's breathtaking and exhilarating. Daily.

We need to be able to update you on the Masters that you identify with and ask, at the same time that we cannot forget to mention about those who are currently waiting for mercy beyond our fences. It is necessary to raise awareness. To educate.

How we do?

Behold, Good News Mail from Vale da Rainha appears in its first edition, where monthly you will have access to the retroactive events of the previous month and schedule of future events. If you are from the Ashram, then you will have differentiated content from columnists such as Ale Luglio, Monk Satyanata, Oberom, Lucas Alvarenga, Ricardo Laurino, Maysa Guimarães among other dear people addressing topics related to the numerous perspectives and nuances of the end of oppression and suffering, bringing reflections on health, cuisine, forests, Master Animals and also the depths of the human being - as well as politics!

We hope this can bring us even closer together so that by inspiring and supporting each other victims are saved and prevented - of all species and kingdoms.

As a great yogi, professor Hermógenes, would say, "may we not occupy the divine time and space in vain" in our earthly journey.

My sincere gratitude for all the beings that are part of this collective, a thanks that echoes the gratitude of Vitor Favano, my husband and also guardian of the Sanctuary, of Master Animals here and of our entire team.

Fraternally,

Patrícia Andrade Varela Favano

Guardian of the Vale da Rainha and New Land Educational Center

(*) SEVA - Seva is a Sanskrit term that means "together with" and represents the act of performing selfless service without any expectation or recognition in return.

Valley of the King Sanctuary

Master Cigana passed away as a child, after breaking her spine when she slipped in an innocent game that revealed the vulnerability of her bones malnourished by her mother's milk, whom was rescued with a serious infection that although treated was not enough for the baby's health, despite the supplements and intense treatment of our veterinary team.

At her wake and planting, we witnessed her mother's intelligence and wisdom realizing that she was gone. She even sadly finds strength in her friend Master Platão, whom she became fond of long after her daughter's farewell. We ask that we not merely mourn our dead, that we honor them so that their stories converted into learning making them immortal.

Vale da Rainha Sanctuary's Hospital

Master mare Isis and Master mare Fênix are about to return home. Our choice was to keep her fully enjoying her life, which will need special care such as Master bovine Lourdes and Draupadi who also have uterine prolapse. Master Isis does not feel pain. Several tests were done so that we could have clarity about his condition.

Master bovine Lázaro was rescued without a penis, after having the member consumed by worms that took over his body due to negligence. Master Ariel, also rescued from dairy farming, is also in the hospital with him because he had an infection that began to deform his limbs. Both fight to restore health, Master Lázaro will undergo surgery. We appreciate prayers.

Master bovine Ariel, brother of Master Miguel and Master Rafael, was rescued with both of them from a dairy farm. He struggles to survive in the hospital and unfortunately will have to be transferred together with Master Lázaro for more intensive care, from the Hospital for Larges at FESB for the one in Jaguariúna city.

Master horse Platão and Master mare Hera: the biopsy of both has identified cancer that is now being studied for treatment.

Master horse Maia's hands is getting more compromised, he had one of them broken before abandonment and on the other he has been supporting all his weight. He is being medicated without being able to get out of the crisis, a different medication was administered this week.

Master Calves from Cunha: They are still in the recovery process facing challenges linked to the sequels of times gone by. They will undergo neutering, microchipping and other rounds of vaccinations before the trip to the Sanctuary around August.

We are celebrating the arrival of the first intern of veterinary medicine at our hospital under the command of the Technical Manager Dr. Maurice Vidal.

New Land Educational Center (CENT)

We will give monthly news about the New Land Educational Center (CENT) that is created every day with the strength of a collective that not only wants to see the world change, but is willing to work and serve to see the world changed!

CENT is based on the triad Environment, Master Animals and Human Health - and brings an emphasis on early childhood education in learning environments, nutrition, philosophy and also psychology. It focuses on sustainability and the Master Animals field embraces the hospital, internships and also courses and technical lectures, besides rescues and awareness.

We were able to buy a tractor and also resume work on the hospital because of your endeavour in evaluating vegan products.

In case you have not downloaded the app yet, know that it allows you donate without spending!

Download the app and start reviewing vegan products and dishes.

If you need help here is a tutorial prepared by our team (tutorial available only in portuguese): www.svr.org.br/abillion

Yoga

"The Master can only point the way." The Voice of the Silence by Helena Blavatsky

Sometimes we ask for what we already have with the hope that someone will do for us. But only each walker can take the step, although on every journey the Master in the heart accompanies us.

The Voice of the Silence will be one of the books studied in the new edition of the Yoga Course.

In each edition of the Good News Mail we will leave sutras and commented texts so that philosophy leads us to think and act instead of unconscious drunk we just keep reacting to our inner.

* The Yoga course is only available in Portuguese.

Sanctuary Store

Soon we will have two new prints created by the vegan artist Déborah Rabelo, both with our text. The products, in addition to converting to Vale da Rainha, are also agents of awareness.

Pano Social offers organic cotton for the t-shirts and all the labor comes from professionals who have been reintegrated in society after serving time in prisons. Thus we reaffirm our commitment to every cause so that there is a world that stops punishing for having managed to educate.

If you're from Ashram, you get 10% off your first purchase.

To think about before bed

In March I saw for the first time a mother just after giving birth defeated on the floor without her child by her side. Along with Kombi Cura and members of our team, we took three babies who were also in a state of defeat and were agonizing over the lack of their mothers.

If we refuse to see, what else will have to happen for us to wake up? The deeper the sleep, the louder the alarm clock sounds.

May we avoid tragedies by fighting with forks and knives.

SEVA

Here we work in the form of service, we dedicate our lives to an ideal that whispers in our heart. And we are blessed to have bonded, grown, learned the light of each other's presence.

Each month someone from our team and partners will tell their story of service at the feet of Master Animals so that we can inspire a chain of good to act everywhere with the humble arms we have for the work. Every person can do something.

Put your gifts at the service of the world you want to see manifest.

Picture of the Month

This month, we remember Master Nandi as a baby, in a photo taken last October.

Gratitude

It is important to understand that evil is not opposed to good because good is sovereign. So everything that we can call as unfair and uncomfortable is also a way to lead each of us to good.

So here we thank Master Calves from Cunha, despite we have not wished all this to happen, we thank them for being the reason for us to elaborate the mission benefiting more beings.

We thank each person who is with us in these challenging times without giving up or losing faith.

Gratitude for a wonderful team that works day and night so that evil no longer has to be the path to good, so that only good exists.

Our thanks for people who collaborate energetically for missions like this, sustaining a protection field where we are protected from the things of this world.

Gratitude for the resumption of the hospital building work, for the tractor, for the new edition of the Yoga course. For friends who become family, for bonds that don't break when blessed by Masters. Gratitude Master Animals.

And you, have you counted your blessings today? We encourage you to acknowledge all the wealth that already exists in your life right now, despite of the challenges you face. ✨
